Parents and guardians are any school’s strongest allies for helping students achieve and thrive to their fullest potential. Robust two-way communication with students’ families cultivates a relationship between the home and the school that puts the families squarely on the school’s team when working with students. (Only students in 4th grade and above take the SALT survey.)

Parent Participation Rates

The percentage of students in the school whose parents responded to the SALT Survey

Parent Participation Rates

Community support

This school

R.I. elementary schools

The extent to which parents and the community are supportive of the school and its program.

Percent of teachers who agree or strongly agree:

Parental involvement in school governance is essential to effective education.

What Teachers Say

Contact me if my child does something well or improves

Contacts me if my child is having a problem

Responds to my concerns and requests within a reasonable time

Has a parent-teacher conference with me

Asks me to volunteer at the school

What Parents Say

What Teachers Say

Percent who report that:

Too few responses to report

Inadequate data submitted

They are home unsupervised 3 or more hours a day, 3 or more days a week.

Parental involvement in school governance is essential to effective education.

What Teachers Say

Percent who report that:

Too few responses to report

Inadequate data submitted

They meet with individual parents to solve problems and provide assistance.

Teachers on their team or grade level maintain positive relationships with students’ parents.

Two-way communication between home and school is essential to effective education.

What Teachers Say

Percent who report that:

Too few responses to report

Inadequate data submitted

They use parents as school resources or volunteers.