Communicating and working with parents

Parents and guardians are any school’s strongest allies for helping students achieve and thrive to their fullest potential. Robust two-way communication with students’ families cultivates a relationship between the home and the school that puts the families squarely on the school’s team when working with students.

Community support

This school

R.I. elementary schools

Parent Participation Rates

The percentage of students in the school whose parents responded to the SALT Survey

Percent of parents who report that the school does well:

Parents

Teachers

Students

What Parents Say

Percent of parents who report that the school does well:

Contacts me if my child does something well or improves

Contacts me if my child has a problem

Responds to my concerns and requests within a reasonable time

Has a parent-teacher conference with me

Asks me to volunteer at the school

What Teachers Say

Percent who agree or strongly agree:

They meet with individual parents to solve problems and provide assistance.

Teachers on their team or grade level maintain positive relationships with students’ parents.

Two-way communication between home and school is essential to effective education.

They are home unsupervised 3 or more hours a day, 3 or more days a week.

The extent to which parents and the community are supportive of the school and its program.

Parental involvement in school governance is essential to effective education.

Teachers on their team or grade level maintain positive relationships with students’ parents.

Two-way communication between home and school is essential to effective education.

Asks me to volunteer at the school

Engaging Families and Community

The Compass School ( Elementary School )

Chart District

Information Works! School Year 2005-06

www.infoworks.ride.uri.edu