Engaging Families and Community

Parents and guardians are any school’s strongest allies for helping students achieve and thrive to their fullest potential. Robust two-way communication with students’ families cultivates a relationship between the home and the school that puts the families squarely on the school’s team when working with students.

Community support

This school

R.I. elementary schools

The percentage of students in the school whose parents responded to the SALT Survey

Parent Participation Rates

2005-06 2006-07 2007-08

Parents

Percent who report that the school does well:

Teachers

Percent who say they are satisfied or very satisfied with:

Students

Percent who report that:

Working with parents

This school

R.I. elementary schools

Parental involvement in school governance is essential to effective education.

* Too few responses to report

? Inadequate data submitted

What Teachers Say

Percent of teachers who agree or strongly agree:

What Parents Say

Percent of parents who report that the school does well:

Working with parents

This school

R.I. elementary schools

Parental involvement in school governance is essential to effective education.

* Too few responses to report

? Inadequate data submitted

What Teachers Say

Percent who report that at least weekly:

What Teachers Say

Percent who report they agree or strongly agree that:

What Teachers Say

Percent who report that at least monthly:

Teacher practices and attitudes

This school

R.I. elementary schools

* Too few responses to report

? Inadequate data submitted

They meet with individual parents to solve problems and provide assistance.

Teachers on their team or grade level maintain positive relationships with students’ parents.

Two-way communication between home and school is essential to effective education.

They use parents as school resources or volunteers.